REVISED: Handbook – 2024 Revised 111524

DEDICATION

This edition is dedicated to those who have worked hard keeping this Organization up to date. And a special “THANKS” to all for their participation to keep this Handbook current.

FOREWORD

The Eight and Forty Handbook has been compiled and revised for the purpose of giving vital information to every partner of this organization in accordance with the obligation we all assumed when we became a partner.

The Handbook contains information invaluable to us. It includes mandates and policies adopted by National La Marche, which are in effect. The mandates are so grouped that each committee can readily determine the authority under which it acts.

It is hoped that this will aid those who have the responsibility of executing the programs to a better understanding of the real purposes of this great Organization. We are a unique organization in our communities and leadership is expected of us.

With the Handbook, along with the National, Departementaux and Les Petits Salons Constitution and Bylaws, and Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised, current edition, effective leadership is assured at any level of responsibility.

Read and refer to the Handbook, keeping it nearby for reference.

PREFACE

The Handbook is written to aid the partners in the performance of their duties as leaders within a Petit Salon, a Departemental or the National Organization.

All changes, resolutions, and mandates through 2022 – 2023 administrative year have been included in this printing.

The Handbook is a mandated textbook. It does not replace the Constitution and Bylaws of our organization.

Our sincere thanks to all who assisted in ensuring our Handbook stays current.

HISTOIRE

The Eight and Forty

La Boutique des Huit Chapeaux et Quarante Femmes (Eight and Forty) was organized by a number of leading Auxiliary women, including the first National President and first National Secretary of the American Legion Auxiliary, at a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary's National Executive Committee in Indianapolis, Indiana in June 1922. The first La Marche Nationale was held in New Orleans, Louisiana, that same year. The first Petit Salon was organized in Cook County, Illinois, and the first Salon Departemental was organized in California. Recognition of Eight and Forty as an affiliated organization was granted by The American Legion in convention assembled (Resolution No. 507) in Omaha, Nebraska, in October 1925. Recognition of Eight and Forty as an affiliated organization was granted by the American Legion Auxiliary at the Ratification meeting of the Paris Convention in October 1927, and as a subsidiary organization, by the National Executive Committee, in January 1933.

In 1922, the original constitution of Eight and Forty stated the objects of the organization as fun and fellowship. However, within the first two years, the Partners found that as active Legion and Auxiliary Members, they wanted to add a service program. At La Marche Nationale in St. Paul in 1924 they added a service objective; "such service to be particularly concerned with Child Welfare." With the addition of the service program the object of our organization is now: 1. Fun and Fellowship, and 2. Service.

In 1928, the National Executive Committee of The American Legion added a representative from Eight and Forty to the advisory members of the National Child Welfare Commission.

In 1932, the Executive Committee of the National Child Welfare Committee of The American Legion assigned to Eight and Forty as a special assignment, "preventive tuberculosis service along educational lines and with financial assistance within its limitations in providing for the care and treatment of children, in cooperation with recognized agencies and methods". This assignment has been reallocated to the Eight and Forty each year.

The National Executive Committee of the American Legion Auxiliary in September 1956 gave approval for the establishment of the Eight and Forty Tuberculosis Nurses' Scholarship fund. The first awards were made for the school year 1957-1958.

In 1962, verbal approval was given to the recommendation of the National Children and Youth Commission to include the disease of Cystic Fibrosis. In February 1968, the National Executive Committee confirming this verbal permission adopted a resolution.

In 1974, National convention of the American Legion Auxiliary, in accepting the report of Le Chapeau National, included in the service of Eight and Forty "lung and other respiratory diseases in children".

In July 2010, The American Legion Auxiliary voted to no longer allow the 8 and 40 to be a subsidiary organization. Therefore, the 8 and 40 association with the American Legion Auxiliary is no longer.

These clippings are to be an original or copy of published articles, whether in a newspaper or magazine, with title of article and date included. Do include the pictures and measure print under it. Step-by-Step Instructions:

- A resolution is a written, formal motion. Resolutions are used because the motion may be presented in written form with some of the reasons included in the document. A well written resolution makes it easier for Partners to consider the proposal. The importance, length and complexity of the motion, and the size and formality of the assembly are major considerations in using resolutions.
- A resolution is made up of two sections – the resolving clauses and the reasons. Resolving clauses tell the specifics of the proposal. The main reasons of a motion should be adopted are included in the “Whereas” clauses. Neither section should include more clauses than absolutely necessary. Keep it simple.
- The two sections can be written in either order, but it is usually best to write the main motion first and then write the reasons it should be adopted. This way, you first determine what is to be done. The main focus should be the most crucial specifics in the motion. One or two sentences are sufficient. A third sentence could include who is responsible and a timeline.
- Once the main motion has been determined, develop three to five statements to support the adoption of the motion. These statements are worded as “Whereas” clauses. The “Whereas” points should be the most important and least controversial arguments for the motion. Less than three points may not make the case depending on the motion, and more than five may get too complicated and confuse the issue. Stay focused on the points that are strictly necessary. Leave other points for the discussion.
- When developing a written motion or resolution, consult with other Partners who can help improve the wording and whose support will assist in its adoption.
- It is a good idea to consult with Partners who can be of assistance, as well as the most recent edition of Robert’s Rules of Order, Newly Revised, to ensure your resolution is correctly formatted.

Here are a few guidelines to follow:

- Deal with only one subject
- State the facts and laws
- Keep subject matter to the point
- Remember that resolutions have only two parts:
 - The preamble (introduction) Whereas,
 - The resolving (solve) portion

APPENDIX

LESSON IN FRENCH

Any job worth doing well, as La Secretaire, we call the roll of Officers, and the French titles of our officers are sprinkled throughout the minutes we read. If we try to correctly spell and pronounce these words, we may make the usage of them more enjoyable to our Partners. Actually, the words we use are few, but possibly a little background on French grammar would be helpful. Some Salons devote one evening annually to the study and pronunciation of our titles. This might be interesting to do.

Below are the main words we use, their meanings and the English version of how they should sound when spoken.

La Boutique Nationale (the national shop)	la boo teek na see o nal
Des Huit Chapeaux (of 8 hats)	Days weet sha po
Et Quarante Femmes (and 40 women)	a kahrongt fahm
Chapeaux Americans	sha posa may ri kan
La Marche Nationale (the national march)	la marsh na see o nal
Le Salon Departemental	luh so long da part mon tal
Le Petit Chapeau	luh pu tee sha po
Le Demi Premier	luh demmee prahm yea
Le Demi Deuxieme	luh demmee du zhem
L' Avocate	la vo kot
L'Archiviste	lar shi veest
La Concierge (sergeant at arms)	la kong see erz
La Surintendante (Mistress of ceremonies)	la sur an tong dongt
L' Aumonier (chaplain)	la moan yair
La Secretaire (secretary)	la sek ray tayr
La Caissiere (treasurer)	la ka syair
Le Pouvoir (executive)	luh poo vwar
Chapeaux Etrangers (candidates for membership)	sha poza trang zhay
Oui (yes)	wee

Non (no)	nong
Petit (small)	pu tee
Premier (first)	prahm yea
Deuxieme (second)	du zhem

NOUNS - French nouns have but two genders, the masculine and the feminine.

ARTICLES - 1. The definite article is le before a masculine noun beginning with a consonant; le chapeau.

2. La before a feminine noun beginning with a consonant: la secretaire.

3. If the masculine or feminine noun begins with a vowel or a silent “h”, use l’:

L’Aumonier, L’Archiviste.

4. Use les before all plural nouns: les chapeaux, les secretaries.

PREPOSITIONS - 1. The preposition “de” (singular) or “des” (plural) is used alone so the definite article “le” is dropped: des huit chapeaux, or (as in 3. above) Departemental d’ Indiana.

ADJECTIVES

FORMATION OF THE FEMININE OF ADJECTIVES AND AGREEMENT

1. Adjectives form their feminine by adding - e to the singular; petit, petite.

2. An adjective agrees in gender and number with the noun or pronoun which it modifies: le petit chapeau, les petites chapeaux, la petit secretaries, les Petit secretaries.

PLURAL OF NOUNS AND ADJECTIVE

1. The plural of an adjective or a noun is generally formed by adding - s to the singular: petit, petits; secretaries, secretaries.

2. Adjectives and nouns ending in - au, add - x instead of - s in the plural; chapeau, chapeaux. Most nouns and adjectives ending in – al change –al to aux; departemental, departementaux.

POSITION OF ADJECTIVE

1. An adjective usually follows the noun it modifies: le chapeau departemental, la boutique nationale.

2. Some adjectives of quality precede the noun; one of these exceptions is “petit”; le petit chapeau.

PRONUNCIATION HINTS

SYLLABICATION - When French words are divided into syllables, a single consonant is pronounced with the following vowel, but two or more consonants are separated: sec-re-taire; pas-se.

LINKING - When a word ending with a consonant precedes a word beginning with a vowel sound, the consonant in pronunciation is generally carries over to the following word: Chapeaux Americains.

ACCENT OR STRESS - The syllables of French words are uttered with an almost equal force; a slight stress being placed on the last syllable; cha-peau. If the last syllable is silent, the stress is given to the next to the last syllable.

ELISION -Elision is the dropping of a final vowel before a word beginning with a vowel sound: l'aumonier (le + aumonier).

EIGHT AND FORTY WINGS

HISTOIRE of the wings as the Eight and Forty emblem as reported by Ann Dobson during the afternoon session, November 20, 1945, Marche Nationale Pouvoir meeting, Continental Hotel, Chicago, Illinois.

Mrs. Dobson: “The wings were designed in my term of office, and it was at the suggestion of The American Legion Emblem Division that those wings were taken, feeling that they were the wings of our American Eagle and it was for that reason that the wings were chosen as the Eight and Forty Emblem.

POLICES AND PROCEDURES OF THE EIGHT AND FORTY

In 1931, Mrs. Amy Radabaugh, Chairman of the Indiana Eight and Forty La Marche consulted company representative of convention badges about making a lug that could be chained to the American Legion Auxiliary pin.

The company made three lugs of 14 karat gold to be given to Le Chapeau Departemental d’ Indiana, Blanch Mount, to Le Chapeau National, Carol Marks, de California, (both now deceased), and to Mrs. Radabaugh. When the chain lug was presented to Carol Marks, Le Chapeau National at La Marche Nationale, the lug received so much admiration; it was voted to order five hundred for Partners to purchase.

INSTALLING OFFICER

It is customary for a Chapeau Passé (Petit, Departemental or National) to serve as the Installing Officer.

EIGHT AND FORTY COLORS

Adopted at La Marche Nationale, Hollywood, Florida August 23-24, 1974

PROCEDURES FOR ADVANCING AND RETIRING THE COLORS

In these instructions, the Flag is the American Flag and the Banner is the Eight and Forty Banner.

1. There should be two color bearers. It is not a must; it makes the presentation much nicer if white is worn and short white gloves.
2. Prior to La Marche check to see that the stands for holding the colors are properly placed.
3. To carry the Colors properly, your left hand is up on the staff, just under but not on the Flag, with your right hand straight down at your side firmly holding onto the lower part of the staff.
4. The Eagle on the Flag always flies when being carried and is turned when posted so the eagle flies toward the audience.
5. The Flag is always carried on its own right and the color bearer cross directly in front of Le Chapeau's station with the Flag closest to the podium and the Eight and Forty Banner nearest the audience.
6. The Flag is posted first, followed immediately by the posting of the Banner.
7. Take one step backward facing the Flag and salute, then the color bearers retire to the rear of the room and La Concierge takes her station at the door.
8. When retiring the Colors, the color bearer approach to within three feet of the colors, face the Flag, salute, then step to the side and slightly behind the Flag and remove it from its stand. Remove the Eight and Forty Banner in the same manner. The Flag remains on its own right so DO NOT cross when retiring the Colors.
9. Stand at attention at the rear of the room with the Flag and Banner upright until the meeting is adjourned.
10. When putting the colors away DO NOT roll the Colors around the staff, but fold them against the staff and secure them to the staff with the cord. This allows them to fall free when posting again.
11. The Americanism Commission contends that the Flag of the United States should be placed in a position of honor at clergyman's or speaker's right as he faces the audience. According to this interpretation, the Flag of the United States should be placed in the same relative position even if the room is not equipped with a platform, or if for some reason it is either impossible (because of insufficient clearance between the floor of the platform and ceiling) or impractical to place Flag on the stage or platform. It does not appear to be logical to relegate the Flag to a less prominent position merely because the room in question is not equipped with a platform.

Do not say in the usual manner; tell them how you wish them to vote. If you have had "Oui" vote or the affirmative, then you should always call for the "non" vote. She announces whether the motion was carried or lost.
5. Before calling for the vote - she may remind them, that the effect of abstaining from voting is the same as if one voted on the prevailing side.
6. She calls for the nomination for the office of Le Chapeau. After the first nomination, she waits a moment for a further nomination and if there is none she then declares "You have elected Mrs. John Jones to serve as Le Chapeau." It is not necessary to move that Mrs. John Jones be elected, and the name of the nominee should always be repeated as you are electing a person to the office.
7. When La Caissiere has read the report, The Chair may say, "If there are no questions regarding La Caissiere's report, then it will be filed for audit. "She waits a moment then states, "Since there is no question, it will be filed for audit."

3. Question: What is the order of introduction when Le Chapeau Departemental visits a Petit Salon for a meeting or social function where the Department President is a Petit Salon member.

Answer: It being an Eight and Forty Function, Le Chapeau would be introduced first, the Department President second, followed by other Eight and Forty guest according to rank (Eight and Forty guests in your Petit Salon who hold National or Department Offices or Chairmanships should be introduced as such in the Petit Salon when other National or Department Officers or Chairmen are introduced as guests.)

4. Question: If Le Pouvoir Member is in attendance at the Pre-Marche Pouvoir at La Marche Nationale, may both the outgoing and newly elected Le Chapeau Departemental attend the Pre-Marche Pouvoir as observers without voice or vote?

Answer: Yes.

Answer: The transfer would be effective when the Charter of the new Salon is issued and the organization completed. (a) Stress importance of immediate transfer for those who wish to keep their partnership current.

(b) Forward Charter, properties and any Monies to Salon Departemental (as per Bylaws).

Answer: Chairman and Co-Chairman of Pages presents Les Chapeaux Passes then Standing Committee Chairmen then elected and appointed officers except Le Chapeau. La Concierge and Les Marechals then present Le Chapeau who opens her Marche. She then calls for the advancement of the Flag and Banner. The distinguished guest chairman presents all guests after Le Chapeau has opened her meeting. Depending on the room and number of pages, and the wishes of Le Chapeau, Pages, may form an honor guard for distinguished guests. Le Chapeau should instruct La Concierge if she has special wishes. This is a suggested processional whether for La Marche Nationale or Departementale.

16. Question: What is the difference between a meeting and a Marche?
